

Don't Lose Any Time!

The HIPAA Security Rule Deadline will be here before you know it.

On April 20, 2005, the Security Rule portion of HIPAA becomes law. Unlike the Privacy Rule, which became enforceable in April 2003, the Security Rule takes place behind the scenes and regulates your pharmacy operations, computer systems, and electronic information. The Security Rule is predicted to require more time to implement than the Privacy Rule, so don't delay. A Risk Analysis and a Disaster Recovery Plan are mandated under the Security Rule—ARE YOU READY?

Not to worry. TPA, NCPA and PRS Pharmacy Services have teamed up to bring you the most complete solution. Together we offer the widest selection of HIPAA programs to fit your pharmacy's HIPAA needs and requirements. The NCPA HIPAA Security Handbook for Community Pharmacy, written by Tennessee's own Walter Fitzgerald, Jr., M.S., J.D., is being offered alone or in combination with other selections.

The HIPAA Security Combo pack offers a step-by-step process to walk you through the requirements of the Security Rule:

- A Handbook written by a pharmacist for pharmacists
- The IT and legal information to help small business owners comply with the HIPAA Security Standard
- A resource that outlines the HIPAA Security Standard requirements for small business owners
- A CD-ROM that contains an interactive HIPAA program that works in Microsoft Word and gives you viable planning solutions, enhancing and protecting your electronic pharmacy operations by validating your system resources, capabilities, and vulnerabilities
- Tools you need to be compliant, including a Risk Analysis and Disaster Recover Plan
- Policies & Procedures and necessary Forms that are easy-to-use and customizable to your pharmacy
